WV HOSPITAL BOARD ASKS FUNDS THIS YEAR

Chappell Wins, Says McGehee

CHAPPELL IS STILL CONSTABLE-ELECT ACCORDING TO ELECTION CERTIFICATE

Who's elected? The Campbell Press says Jack Chappell is the new Campbell Township constable and we stand behind the figures which were published showing his election by a majority of 1119 to 1025 for Ethan Lanphear. With the increase in tally created by count of the absentee ballots, Chappell was still ahead with 13 absentee tallies to Lanphear's 11.

A San Jose daily newspaper published this evening what is purported to be the official canvass of votes. This showed Lanphear winning, 1099 to 969.

The Campbell Press totals were collected on the day after the June 6 election. We have the duplicate precinct reports for all but two precincts to prove it. Granted that the official canvass could rule out a few votes, but what about a loss of 163 votes for Chappell?

After the election, one San Jose daily paper kept putting incumbent Lanphear back into office with a ballot lead. Its sister paper, after checking with the Campbell Press each day, reversed the total and put Chappell in—that is, until today. Now that paper seconds the other's past claims that Lanphear is in.

In an endeavor to get a final decision on the official canvass, the Campbell Press has held up publication while contacting various county officials having access to the records. Although several failed to cooperate, County Clerk E. T. McGehee stated that according to the official certificate of election which was in his hands today, MR. CHAPPELL is listed as the elected constable for the Campbell district. McGehee said he had turned over the certificates to Richard Olson, clerk of the board of supervisors.

Commented Chappell, "If the figures as published by the San Jose paper are the official count, then I shall demand a recount."

In a lighter vein he added, with a chuckle, "I've only run for election this one time, yet I've been elected three times and defeated twice, maybe three times. I'd like to know where I stand."

Bucs' Cove Open; Bob Pracna Is New President

Bob Pracna was elected president of Bucs' Cove Monday night at the opening of the 1950 summer recreation season at Campbell Union High School. Some 50 members were on hand for the election of officers and council members who will conduct the program this year.

Other officers are Tom Barton, vice-president; Alice Jones, secretary; Mary Irene Jones, treasurer. Those named to the council are Ellen D. Lauder, Phyllis Young, Ken Stuckey, Carmen Lara, Mike Chieki and Bill Plymale. Two council positions are still to filled by representatives of outlying districts.

Students will meet at Bucs' Cove at 6 p.m., July 10 for the first swimming session at Abraham Lincoln pool. Each student must provide his own towel. There will be a small admission charge; the more students, the smaller the fee.

The high school gym is open Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m. for all Campbell Union High School boys, including recent graduates of the district's elementary schools.

Those interested in folk dancing are to meet at Bucs' Cove Wednesday, June 28, at 7:30 p.m. to organize a folk dancing group.

Next Friday, June 30, there will be dancing and the regular recreation activities at the school from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. Membership cards will be sold at this time. This year's Campbell High grads are invited to attend.

The soda fountain is open for sale of candy and milk shakes whenever someone is on hand to run it during the evening. Miss Muriel Carson, recreation director, has announced that more adult help is urgently needed to staff the soda fountain.

Kiwanians Hear Consultant On Hospital District

The proposed West Valley Hospital District should provide for a 50-bed hospital at the outset, the speaker at the Campbell Kiwanis meeting Tuesday noon stated. He is LaRue Sorensen, consultant on the project, who gave some interesting figures to the Kiwanis members.

Over-all county need for hispital beds was found to be approximately 1100, he stated, leaving a need of 600 to 800 beds over those already provided.

Sorensen said the proposed West Valley hospital will be governed by a local elected board of directof directors subject to the will of the voters and having authority to direct all policies of the district in the same manner as school districts are operated.

Only requirements for hospitals receiving aid through government funds is that they be non-profit organizations, for federal funds; and meet the state license law, state.

Herbert M. Shadle was chairman of the program, with vice-president Fred Jones acting as chairman in absence of president William C. Henley.

A two-year perfect attendance pin was awarded to Arthur Mayo, and a 24-year pin to the secretary, Guy Farley.

Blood Donations To Be Accepted Next Monday

Campbell residents are reminded that the next visit of the mobile unit of the Regional Blood Bank will be in Campbell next Monday, June 26. Appointments may be made by phoning Mrs. Ethan Lanphear, Campbell 3655, or Mrs. N. J. Mahon, Campbell 4751.

Blood procurement chairman J. F. Levenberg has stated that blood is urgently needed to bring the Campbell credit at the blood bank to a safe level. Blood has been drawn against the community's credit for use by hospitalized residents of Campbell. Residents, through contributing to the blood bank, may establish a credit for use in future emergencies which may strike themselves, their families or their neighbors.

Stanford Degrees Awarded To Four Campbell Men

Four Campbell men received degrees from Stanford University at the 59th annual commencement exercises in Laurence Frost Amphitheater. These were Daniel Will Clark, Doctor of Medicine; Thomas Patrick McNiff, Doctor of Medicine; Tsutomo Tom Hikido, bachelor of science in chemistry, with great distinction; and Katsumi Hikido, bachelor of science, physics, with distinction.

Local Man Held For Questioning

Ernest Moser Sr., 42, of Campbell, was held for questioning early Thursday morning after Sheriff's Deputies Claude Finley and Glen Abell reported they found him prowling through a new housing project at 3 a.m. The construction laborer's car held kegs of nails, door knobs, and other construction hardware, the deputies stated.

SERVICE FUND BOARD STUDIES BUDGET PLANS

First meeting of the new officers of the Campbell Community Service Fund organization was held this month, at which time questionnaires for the various benefitting organizations were submitted by Harold Drummond, the chairman of the budget committee.

Mrs. J. Warren Knowles, president, conducted the meeting. Her fellow officers for the term are: Mr. W. J. Raab, vice-president; and Mrs. G. W. Youngman, secretary-treasurer

The general committee consists of the board of directors, above, and two representatives of each participating organization These are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Camp Fire Girls, Scout Hall, library fund, milk fund for the Campbell Elementary School District, and the Visiting Nurse Association. The fund serves the Moreland, Moorpark, Cambrian, San Tomas, Beverly-Burbank and Campbell communities.

Part of the work for the year was organized and broken down into programs for the group's various committees. These are the poster committee, Mr. Warren Brown; photography, Mr. Larry Keck; budget, Mrs. Harold Drummond; campaign manager, Mr. C. P. Klassen, and publicity, Mrs. J. E. Morrison and Mrs Marion Parker.

The questionnaire which Mrs. Drummond submitted has been sent to each participating organization. These must be filled out and turned in immediately. Replies to the questions on the sheets will provide the budget committee with information about how much outside aid each group receives from other organization and individual donations. Thus, should the annual drive fall short of its goal as it has done in reecnt years, the committe will have a working basis on which to make fair reductions in budgets of each organization to bring them all within the total amount reecived.

Next meeting of the Service Fund organization will be called when all questionnaires have been returned. The budget for the coming drive for funds will be based on questionnaire information and individual budgets submitted by the participating organizations. The drive probably will start during the last week of September.

Judgment Awaits Avilla's Signature

Papers containing the final judgement in the Bradley Manor election case were filed by Attorney John M. Burnett with Superior Judge Leonard R. Avilla yesterday at 4:45 p.m., and, if the opponents fail to object within five days, Judge Avilla will sign and file the papers next Wednesday.

Judge Avilla stated today that the papers await his signature. Opponets to the decision which found the Bradley Manor annexation election invalid have five days in which to file an objection, otherwise the decision stands.

Attorney Burnett represented the winning side in the annexation election dispute. Avilla, who heard the case, reported his findings in April, declaring the election illegal. Privilege of preparing the findings and writing of the final judgement generally is accorded counsel for the winning side.

After the papers are filed next Wednesday, unless the San Jose City Council objects to the judgement, Campbell High School will be able to go ahead with sale of $950,000 in bonds for enlargement of the school plant and purchase of a second site. Sale has been held up pending actual filing of the final papers in the election case.

The child was partially burried under boards of the porch, but did not receive any broken bones. She suffered from shock and severe bruises, particularly on her legs.

A neighbor, Mr. Warren B. Hewitt of 97 N. First Street, took the mother and child to a local physician. The mother was in the house at the time of the accident.

Driver of the car was Mrs. Mack (Norma Joan) Fink, 22, of 248 N. Milton Avenue, who was driving west on Minna street when her car was involved in a right angle collision with that driven by Osvald N. Hospital Board Retains Consultant For District Survey

At its meeting in Los Gatos on Monday night, June 12, the Board of Directors of the West Valley Hospital District retained Mr. Larue Sorensen, Hospital Planning Consultant of Carmel, to assist them in the planning of the district's hospital.

Mr. Sorensen, who, during the past several years has been working with a number of hospital districts in the state, will immediately begin a detailed survey of the area to determine the type of facility which should be provided to meet the need for beds within the West Valley Hospital District. The facts developed by this survey will later be given to the district's architect, who, together with Mr. Sorensen, will develop the plan for the building.

"Until 1937, when he graduated from San Jose State College, Larue Sorensen resided in San Jose. After graduation he went to Mexico where he did graduate work at the National University. He served for four and one-half years with our armed forces during the war, four years of which was in the Intelligence Division of the War Department. His last assignment was at the United Nations Conference in San Francisco.

After the war, Mr. Sorensen became an assistant to one of the nation's outstanding hospital architects with whom he worked for over four years. While with this architecht, he assisted in the development of many hospital district projects, among them the Marin Hospital, Mark Twain Hospital of Calaveras County, John C. Fremont Hospital of Mariposa County, Salinas Valley Hospital and the Petaluma Hospital.

Mr. Sorensen is well acquainted with the need for hospital beds in this area for last year he made a survey of Santa Clara County's needs for its Board of Supervisors. This was in connection with the county's appeal to the government for financing to assist in providing additional facilities for county cases.

The board of directors with Mr. Sorensen will make every effort to see that the West Valley Hospital District is not only provided with the hospital it so acutely needs, but also that it will be outstanding among hospitals in the nation, the group announced in a press release today.

Urgency Note Supplements Application For State-Federal Hospital Fund Aid

At its meeting on Monday night, June 12, the West Valley Hospital District received the report from Larue Sorensen, its Hospital Planning Consultant, that the 1950 supplement to the application previously filed for Federal-State building money had been delivered to the State of California Department of Public Health.

In May of 1949 the West Valley Hospital District made application for a portion of the Federal-State money which is available each year to hospital districts wherein there is a critical need for hospital beds. These funds are apportioned in accordance with a plan set up jointly by the United States Government and the State of California whereby districts with the greatest need are given top priority. Under the plan the federal government furnishes one-third of the hospital cost, the state one-third and the district one-third.

The West Valley Hospital District is high on the list of potential recipients which fact prompted the Board of Directors to revise the application in an effort to show that the district's need is so great that it warrants assistance this year. Present at Monday evening's meeting were the following directors: H. M. Shadle, president; Harry S. Whiteman, secretary; Dr. Merlin Maynard, Martin S. Walsh and Col. A. W. Howard. Present also was George J. Stepovich, the district's legal counsel and Sorensen, the district's consultant.

"At the time the District submitted its application in May of 1949, the bed-population ratio was not the formula suggested by the state, but rather was ¾ of one bed per 1000 population. This is far below the ratio recognized by the state as a necessary minimum.

"The State considers the West Valley Hospital District a portion of Area I-16, which area in 1949 had a gross need of 1092 beds. Within this same area there are but 336 existing acceptable beds, which showed on May 2, 1949, a net need for 656 beds. Since May 2, 1949, at which time the West Valley Hospital District's population was estimated to be 45,000 it has increased to at least 55,000. New homes actually under construction within the District, when occupied during the next ten to fourteen months, could easily increase the population to 70,000. The unprecedented growth of the population within Santa Clara County and especially in the West Valley Hospital District shows conclusively that the number of hospital beds presently existing in the area is so far below the minimum suggested by the State as to make this District's need for hospital beds most critical.

"Between the years 1940 to 1950, the average population increase throughout the United States was 12 percent. During this same period the population increase for California was 51 percent. Figures show that during this ten-year period, while the national average was 12 percent and the state average 51 percent, the increase within what is now the West Valley Hospital District has been 61 percent.

"During this ten year period the enrollment of one elementary school district within our area shows an increase from 672 in 1942 to 1312 in 1949. This does not constitute a singular case in our area.

"This tremendous increase in population has seriously overtaxed each school district with the result that all have had to bond themselves to the legal maximum.

"In May of 1949, the West Valley Hospital District based its request for assistance upon a ratio of less than 2½ beds per 1000 population because they felt that if they used the ratio of 4 beds per 1000 as suggested by the State the hospital would be a much larger facility than they could afford. This year because of the increase of the population, 2½ beds per 1000 results in a total number of beds believed again to be more than the district could finance. We, therefore, believe that our request for assistance in providing approximately 50 beds is modest and warrants careful consideration.

"During the past fiscal year, the United States government gave financial assistance to two non-profit hispitals in San Jose which are also in Area I-16. This, we feel, may have some effect upon the bed need within our district. However, we are of the opinion that the number of new beds to be provided are so few that even after they have been provided, the acute shortage will continue within our district. It is not known by the directors of this district how many new beds are to be provided in San Jose, but we believe it to be less than 100. With the net need for beds within this area no fewer than 656, the reduction by

Classic And Modern Compositions Presented By Pupils In Piano Recital

An interesting recital of piano music was presented by pupils of Clara Huber Brass in her home Tuesday evening, June 20. Mrs. Brass formerly lived in Campbell and had her piano studio at the home of her brother, Clarence Huber, of 18 E. Hamilton Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Brass have recently purchased a home at 742 Emory Court in San Jose, where the recital was held and where Mrs. Brass now has her piano studio.

The program of piano duets and solos took the audience through the classics and on to modern composition and contemporary composers. The late Xaver Scharwenka, eminent pedagogue and composer with whom Mrs. Brass had studied, was represented on the program with the playing of his composition "Polish Dance."

The young musicians showed sound musical knowledge in their playing, which was characterized by clean cut technique and musical temperament.

An appreciative audience was present to enjoy the program and to encourage these young musicians with its generous applause.

Pupils taking part in the recital were: Joanne Ott, Marilyn Ott, Diana Robba, Nancy Titus, Jacqueline Jansen and Charlotte Huber all of Campbell, Esther Willis, formerly of Campbell but now living in Redwood City, Sylvia Woodkey and Margaret Rehm of San Jose.

Just before the program began, Mrs. Brass's pupils presented her with a beautiful corsage. Later in the evening, during the social hour, Mrs. Brass by request, responded and played three numbers for her guests.

The living room was tastefully decorated with flower bouquets.

Due to limited space, only relatives and close friends of the pupils and teacher were invited.

At the close of the delightful program of piano music, a social hour and light refreshments were enjoyed.

Owners and prospective owners of home freezers or renters of freezing lockers are invited to get the lowdown on home freezing methods at a special freezing demonstration to be given here next Friday, June 30, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon under the sponsorship of the Agricultural Extension Service. The session will be conducted in the Methodist Church parish house and is open to all who are interested.

This will be both a freezing and canning demonstration, showing latest methods for preparing fruits and vegetables for freezing and canning. Facts will be given on why foods must be quick frozen, as well as advice on types of containers which give best results. Mrs. Winifred Jecker, home demonstration agent, will conduct the session.

Child care will be provided at a nominal fee.

Freezing and canning questions will be invited. Literature will be distributed, and Mrs. Jecker will invite all who attend to present their problems on home freezing and canning during the meeting.

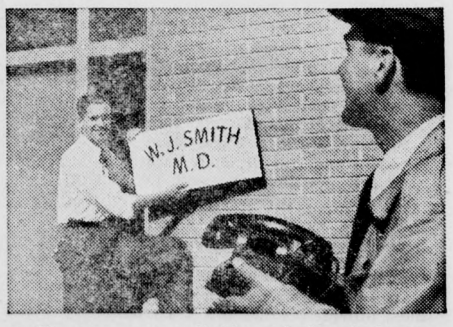
The new telephones put in daily mean more value for all. You can reach more people...more can reach you.

HE'S MAKING YOUR TELEPHONE A BETTER BARGAIN

How your service grows more useful as we add new telephones



1. In the ten busiest years we ever had, the West's population jumped more than fifty per cent. Telephone service grew even faster . . . the number of telephones at work in the West has doubled. And we built this new system in the face of inflated postwar costs...for we can't, in contrast with most businesses, defer the addition of plant just because the cost is high.

2. You may never call this particular telephone... but it's pretty certain you will want to call or hear from some of the telephones we're adding. As the West grows, new people come into your town... others move their homes and businesses...so it is necessary for us to do our best to keep pace with the growth of your community to make sure you can call whom you want, when you want.

3. As a part of a bigger system, your telephone is a bigger value today...particularly when you consider the low rates you pay for service. Long distance telephone rates actually decreased between 1940 and 1946. And, while the increases in local and long distance rates since 1946 vary, the average for the territory we serve has been only 27 per cent. Your telephone still gives you a big value for your budget dollar. It's one of today's best bargains.

Campbell Area Poultryman Places 2nd and 5th In State and Regional Chicken - of - Tomorrow Contest Judging

Second place honors in the California state Chicken-of-Tomorrow contest, as well as fifth place in the western regional division of the contest, have been won by Franklin Poultry Farm of N. Santa Cruz Avenue, between Campbell and Los Gatos, delegates to the Western Poultry Congress in San Diego learned this week.

Not only the place honors were accorded breeder James A. Franklin, but recognition for the heaviest entry, New York dressed weight ih both contests went to the local man.

Purpose of the contest is to encourage poultrymen through the United States to work toward improvement of their own flocks by competing in a new three-year nation-wide program offering cash awards. It is designed to bring superior meat-type chickens to American dinner tables by encouraging the breeding and development of plumper, meatier birds which can be more economically produced.

H. L. Shrader, senior extension poultryman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, announced that the initial three-year Chicken-of Tomorrow program which concluded in June 1948, in Delaware, proved conclusively that definite improvements in meat-type characteristics can be achieved. Shrader is chairman of the contest committee. "Much valuable breeding information has been distributed to the growers," he said, while the scientific data compiled by the committee officials has proved of the utmost importance to the entire poultry industry."

A new program was inaugurated with a series of state contests in 1949. A second series of state contests followed by regional trials was conducted this year, and the national committee will select outstanding contestants from these trials to compete in a national finals in 1951. A total of $10,000 in cash awards in addition to championship trophies, ribbons and certificates, is at stake in the contests.

The California state contest started March 21, and birds were raised to 12 weeks and four days old. Fifty birds were started by Franklin of which 15 were selected for judging in the Chicken-of-Tomorrow contest. There was no mortality in the entire 50. Ranch weight of the 15 was 87¾ pounds or an avearge of 5.85 pounds per bird. San Diego weight was 82 pounds or 5.47 pounds each, with the New York dress weight 4.89 pounds, compared to the first place state winner weight of 4.79 pounds for the Vantress, Marysville, entry.

Franklin reported a feeding efficiency of 3.27 pounds of feed per pound of meat, using the Larro (General Mills, Inc.) feeding program.

James A. Franklin worked for Vantress in Marysville for a year and a half and also managed the egg laying contest in Modesto for the state. He has been in the local poultry business for the past three years, raising all breeding stock and maintaining a hatchery. He and John E. Woodside are partners in the business.

His stock is straight New Hampshire and he has a specilized breeding program in operation at present to improve the meat bird production in California.

His standards for selection of breeder stock are of the highest type and also he averages out 2.7-ounce eggs for hatching. Each chick is individually graded on being hatched, thus guaranteeing the buyer the highest quality chick available and resulting in a reduced mortality rate over period of growth.

California contest winners, as announced Saturday in San Diego were: first, Vantress, Marysville (national winner in 1948) 4.79 pounds, N.Y. dressed weight; second, Franklin Poultry Farm, Campbell, 4.89 pounds, N. Y. dressed weight (heaviest weight in contest); third, Arnold Hatchery, Merced; fourth, Bachlis Hatch-North Sacramento, and fifth, King's Pioneer Hatchery, in Santa Rosa.

Winning entries were quick frozen and entered in the Western Regional contest on Monday, during the Western Poultry Congress in San Diego. This included previous state winners from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah and Colorado.

Western Regional winners were: first, White Rock entry from Fors Hatchery, Washington; second, Vantress; third and fourth, Linn Hatchery, Puyallup, Washington, with a Cornish-New Hampshire cross; & fifth, Franklin Poultry Farm, Campbell, 4.89 pounds New York dressed, still heaviest entry.

These ratings qualify Franklin to enter the national finals next year when hatching eggs will be shipped east, hatched and chicks grown out to fryer age to determine the best breeder of superior meat-type chickens in the United States.

For the state contest, the 15 live cockerels were shipped to San Diego where they were killed and dressed on June 17, then judged that same afternoon. Winning entires were annouced June 19.

After attending the poultrymen's congress in San Diego, Mr. Franklin, together with his wife and family are vacationing in the southwest, principally in New Mexico.

State's Admission To Union Reviewed For Rotarians

Attorney Martin S. Walsh, Campbell's justice of the peace-elect, provided highlights on the record of California's admission to the Union at the Rotary Club weekly luncheon Monday in the IOOF Hall. Guests at the session were Jack Lynch and Bob Saia. Methodist Church women who prepared and served the luncheon were introduced during the meeting and complimented on the excellent job they have been doing.

Attorney Norman Stoner introduced the speaker who told Rotarians that the thirty-first Congress admitted California, the thirty-first state of the union. California became the thirty-first star in a flag which was authorized under the act of Congress of June 4, 1777. In 1818 Congress had set the limit on 13 stripes with each new state to be designated by a star, rather than add a new stripe, too, for each new state.

The U. S. flag was first raised in California by Commodore Jones, who moved in prematurely under the mistaken assumption that the United States was taking over the territory by force to prevent its falling into the hands of the English, French or Russians. England and France were vitally interested in the territory and ships of both nations stood off the central California coast awaiting developments. This was during the 25-day Bear Flag revolt during which General Vallejo was taken prisoner while a group of Americans seceded from Mexico and set up an independent state pending expected action by the United States to accept the territory into the Union.

Commodore Sloat ran up the U. S. flag at Monterey in 1849, and in 1850 Caliofrnia became a member of the Union—the only state which was admitted with a ready-made constitution and which had never been a territory. It was admitted as a free state, after considerable controversy, there being at the time 15 free and 15 slave states. California's admission as a free state upset the balance.

The battleship Oregon brought news of California's formal admission to the Union when it made its much-heralded trip around the Horn.

Other events followed in quick succession. The first California Constitutional Convention was held at Monterey in the year 1849, the same year John Marshal discovered gold at Sutter's Creek.

San Jose became the first state capitol, but later Sacramento was selected because of its proximity to the gold fields. Selection of the state's boundary lines proved quite a task, until it was finally decided to accept the natural boundaries of the Sierra-Nevada Mountains to the east and the Siskiyou Mountains at the north.

Retake On Plan Line Proposal

Although second public hearing was conducted Wednesday on proposed establishment of an Official Plan Line on Santa Clara-Los Gatos Highway between Latimer Avenue and Hacienda Drive, the hearing schedules will have to start over again. At first, the County Planning Commission was prepared to approve the plan line proposal until a legal defect in the proceedings was discovered—through some error the planning office had failed to publish notices of the two hearings. Hearings will be held July 5 and 19.

Public hearing on application of the Sisters of the Presentation for permit to establish and maintain a novitiate at Vasona Heights was postponed at request of the applicants. Hearing was set over until August 16.

Application of the Calvary Baptist Church for amendment of use permit for additional parking at the front of the property on the east side of San Jose-Los Gatos Road south of Shannon Road was denied. Neighbors protested the request, and the board denied the application on grounds the church group had not complied with its original agreement when the use permit was first issued.

Resolution of intention was filed by Alvin E. Carter to reclassify to a light commercial zone property on the northeast corner of Latimer Avenue and Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road, being part of Lot 2 of the P. G. Keith subdivision.

Also filed was resolution on petition of Philip S. Sanfilippo and Lionel J. Tilson to reclassify to a light commercial zone property between Saratoga Avenue and Quito Road southerly of the intersection thereof and northerly of Paseo Cerro of El Quito Park subdivision.

Stephen Dorchich filed resolution to reclassify to R-2 residential property on the east side of Monroe Street between Stevens Creek Road and Scott Street.

Application of Alvin B. and Adeline L. Routt for a use permit to maintain a gravel pit between the Southern Pacific right-of-way and Los Gatos Creek was granted with certain restrictions on operation, maintenance and means of ingress and egress.

On petition of E. R. Kennedy to reclassify property on Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road at Kennedy Road, the board indicated today that action is finally to be taken in the matter which has been before the Commission and the Board of Supervisors during recent months. The commission has prepared a report showing amount of property in Campbell which has been zoned for commercial use and percentage of this property which is either in use commercially or not in use commercially Nestor Barrett, secretary of the commission, said today the map shows approximately 40 percent of the commercially zoned property is not being used for business at present.

Burt C. Aamodt New Owner Of Water Service

Culligan Soft Water Service of Campbell and Santa Clara has undergone an ownership transfer this month. Burt C. Aamodt has assumed ownership of the business, succeeding Mr. Martin Narum. The soft water service office is located at 1175 Lafayette Street, Santa Clara.

Mr. Aamodt, a Purdue University graduate and lieutenant(jg), USNR, has been associated with the soft water service business for over 10 years. He is well equipped to handle any softening problem, to furnish supplies such as salt, soft water soap, zeolite mineral and self-owned softeners, and repair and rejuvenate water softening equipment.

Mr. Aamodt, in discussing his business, said the Culligan company operates the world's largest Zeolite plant which is located in San Bernardino, whence over 1000 service operators throughout the country are supplied. Culligan operators are at present serving over 2,000,000 people daily with soft water. Basis of their success, he said, is that the company has eliminated the necessity for families to invest hundreds of dollars in their own water softeners. All worries of regenerating, salt or repairs are avoided with the soft-water service utility. In effect the service is much the same as the great electric and gas utilities, he commented. This service is a real economy, since the savings far exceed the small monthly service charge.

Mr. Aamodt, his wife and baby daughter, Mary Therese, plan to establish their home in either Campbell or Santa Clara.

Burglars Remove $5 In Stock At Campbell Hardware

Iron bars across a rear window of the Campbell Harware Company, 255 E. Campbell Avenue, preevnted a burglar from obtaining hardware supplies other than thoes within arm's reach through the window, Tuesday night.

The intruder broke the window, then reached through and removed an estimated $5 worth of merchandise, including two rolls of wire, a package of labels, a box of paint brushes and a box of putty knives. The brushes and knives were found in the rear alley, and packing lists which had hung on a nail near the window were scattered through the alleyway. Owners suspect juveniles in the case.

Edward Band and Pete Gerevas discovered the burglary when they arrived for work Wednesday morning.

The store, operated by Norman Corvello and Cel Gerevas, was robbed in 1947, four months after it was opened, and the iron bars were installed after that incident. A year and a half ago, the owners received a warning phone call that the store would be burglarized. Law officers stationed at the store and patrolling the area that night failed to discover anyone attempting to break into the shop.

Roy Zimmer And Joe Humphrey Buy Station

Roy S. Zimmer and Joe Humphrey, both of Campbell, will become partners in operation of the Shell Service Station at the corner of Campbell Avenue and Winchester Roads on July 1. They have bought out present owners Darel A. Vincent, John and Carl Alford.

Vincent and the Alfords have another large station on Bayshore Avenue at N. First Street which they have been operating. All three will be at the Bayshore station after July 1.

Both Zimmer and Humphrey are Navy veterans of World War II. Zimmer has been with Jones Chevron Service, opposite the Shell Station, for the past three and a half years. Humphrey works for Acme Brewing Company, San Jose.

Mr. William D. Bagchus, Campbell's enterprising Dutchman, has brought in a new product from Holland this week. This is a delicious imported Dutch herring which will be available soon at many of the stores and eating places in town.

More About... WV Hospital Funds Asked

100 would seem almost insignificant. This seems especially true when one considers that at 4 beds per 1000 for our present district population we alone can show a gross need for 220 beds. This fact, we feel, warrants serious consideration of the advisory council.

"The citizens of this district and its board of directors recognize that this need exists and are determined to do all within their means to provide the hospital which is known to be necessary. The district is not remaining idle while awaiting governmental financial assistance, but rather is moving along as rapidly as is possible. The district has recently purchased a 10-acre site located in the geographic and population center of the district and is soon to begin a detailed survey of the district which will set forth more exactly the need of the hospital which the district proposes to provide. The district is now interviewing architects preparatory to the selection of one who will develop a preliminary plan from the information developed during the survey. The district is doing this in order to develop a careful estimate of the magnitude and cost of the hospital.

"While the district is undertaking this preliminary work, we are doing so fully realizing our inability to finance the total project which will be necessary for this area. We, therefore, urgently and respectfully request the State of California, Department of Public Hearlth, and its Advisory Council to allocate to us a portion of the governmental money to be available during the next fiscal year in order to provide the hospital beds within this district where none now exists."

5-ounce Egg Laid By Hen Of Mrs. Phillips

You've heard about the goose that laid the golden egg? That one is classed as a fairy tale, but there's a hen in Monte Vista that produced a five-ounce egg, and that's a true story.

Mrs. Richard Phillips of Lomita has the egg to prove it. (An average egg weighs about one and a half ounces.) Her husband was collecting the eggs Wednesday morning of last week and brought in the whopper which measures eight inches around the middle and 10¼ inches around the ends.

Mrs. Phillips showed it to the man who delivered the feed the next day and he urged her to notify the newspapers. "In 20 years in the feed business, that's the largest egg I've ever seen" he told her.

Mrs. Phillips doesn't even know which of her hens laid the egg. "They're all still alive," she explained. "If the hen had died after laying it we would know which one it was." Just for comparison she measured an ordinary egg. It registered five inches around the middle and six inches around the ends.

The fist-size egg will be preserved in water glass, for Mrs. Phillips hopes to enter it in the special exhibits display at the Santa Clara County Fair later this summer.

Matinees For Ice Follies

Matinee performances of the "Ice Follies of 1950," now playing at Winterland in San Francisco, will start Sunday afternoon, June 25.

Afternoon shows will be held every Sunday thereafter during the limited San Francisco engagement. Tickets are available at Winterland and at Sherman Clay & Co. in San Francisco and Oakland, or by mail. To order tickets by mail, send check or money order, together with self-addressed stamped envelope, to Winterland, Post and Steiner Streets, San Francisco. Tickets are $1.20, $1.80, $2.40, $3.00 and $3.60, including tax.

Matinees start at 2:15 p.m.

The "Ice Follies of 1950" has been hailed by critics as the "greatest production ever staged by the Shipstads and Johnson." It has many new stars in the show, including young Jimmy McAnany, a 19-year old youth who does an almost unbelievable "backwards somersault" while skating down the ice backwards at top speed. While in mid-air he passes a hoop over his body, and then lands upright on the ice.

Evening performances are scheduled every night at 8:30.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. John Cahill of Redwood City, the bride wore a gown of white organdy styled with cap sleeves, low cut neckline, fitted bodice and ballerina skirt. On her head was a small cap of white ribbon, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, pink bouvardia and white streamers on her white Bible.

Maid of honor Joanne Bordi, sister of the bridegroom, wore an organdy frock of pale green. Her shower bouquet was of pale pink carnations, white bouvardia and pink streamers.

1175 Lafayette St.,
Santa Clara AX 6-5262

by Ralph H. Taylor
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

For the coming fiscal year the State of California has an expenditure program, authorized by the Legislature and the Governor, just a shade under a billion dollars.

The State budget is one document which vitally affects every living Californian. No matter how the figures are juggled, on the basis of a ten million person population it is going to cost each man, woman and child in the state an average of $97.82 to meet the $978,252,775 budget. That amount does not include the direct cost of federal, county, and local government.

To put California's budget in proper perspective—to fully appreciate the cost to the people of the state of services rendered by it—it need only be considered as a part of the family budget. In that way it can be realized how much less money will be available for the other family expenses—food, clothing, entertainment, etc.

State government in 1950-51 will cost the average married couple $195.64; a married couple with one child, $293.46; with two children, $391.28; and with three childsen, $489.10. Roughly speaking, for every 10 million dollars California spends, each citizen of the state is taxed one dollar.

Frank H. Thill, State Affairs Counselor of the highly regarded California Taxpayers' Association, has prepared for the June issue of "Tax Digest" a penetrating analysis of California's 1950-51 budget.

Actually, the budget is made up of three parts—State Operations, Capital Outlay, and Local Assistance. For the coming fiscal year, State Operations are budgeted at $262,364,482 ($26.23 per person); Capital Outlay at $167,446,943 ($16.74 per person); and Local Assistance at $548,441,350 ($54.84 per person).

By comparison, Thill points out that the 1949-50 budget authorized an expenditure of $1,081,158,788. Due to the legislators' salary increase voted at the 1949 special election and certain legislative appropriations, however, expendtures amounted to $1,166,762,418.

It is significant to note, in view of the widespread philosophy of the times, that as State Government takes over more of the duties and responsibilities of local government—and Federal Government takes over more from the state—that our state appropriations for local assistance make up more and more of the state budget so that now that fund outweighs appropriations for operations and capital outlay combined.

In fact, if the state government were not in the business of collecting local tax dollars and then returning them to the counties—a procedure which is uneconomic at best—the state budget would amount to $429,811,425 rather than barely under a billion dollars.

It should be crystal clear that taxes cannot be dodged. No matter who levies a tax—the local, state, or national government—it is going to be collected from the same people. In many cases, the only purpose served by shifting the tax is to increase the amount of the total tax take.

Every time the state government takes over a city's or county's tax collection duties and provides that function or service of government in place of the city or county, it amounts to a further centralization of government — a further centralization of power. The same is true in the case of the federal government assuming the tax-collecting responsibilities of state government.

In studying California's budget, it would be well to eye the Local Assistance section carefully—and remember that it makes up the greater portion of the $97.82 each Californian pays to support the State Government. It is well to remember, too, that in the final analysis, the cost of government on any level will be just as high as the people will permit.

"EASY DOES IT"

IF YOUR roast does not appear to have enough fat on it to roast properly, lay strips of fat across the top of it. Eating quality will be improved by adding the fat.

Have you ever tried sauteed liver with mushrooms? The liver used may be cut in strips or pieces, dipped in seasoned flour and served with heated, broiled in butter mushrooms, chopped, crowns or sliced crowns.

After peeling, slicing and soaking eggplant in cold, salted water, layer it in a casserole with peeled, sliced tomatoes. Top with Swiss or Parmesan cheese and buttered bread crumbs and bake slowly for an hour. It's a vegetable treat!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Special Baked Potatoes
(Serves 6)

6 potatoes
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup hot milk
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup minced corned beef
½ cup grated American cheese
Paprika

Select large, uniform potatoes. Scrub and bake in a hot (400°) oven for an hour to an hour and one-half or until tender. Cut in halves lengthwise, scoop out insides and mash; whip until creamy after adding salt, milk and butter. Fold in corned beef. Refill shells; sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Bake in a moderate oven (350°) for 10 minutes.

When roasting veal, plan to have the gravy made with sour cream for extra flavor. Add sour cream to gravy after it's prepared, just before serving time.

Bits of chopped maraschino cherry and juice added to sugar or icebox cookies make a delightful variation.

Small red beets which have been cooked and then scooped out leaving a shell, may be filled with horseradish. These make an excellent garnish around any beef roast.

Slivers of carrots, green peas and slivered green beans may be added to soup stock or any creamed soup for a colorful as well as tasty vegetable soup. It's a wonderful way to use leftover vegetables.

Mel Bronzich Seriously Hurt In Road Crash

Mel Bronzich, brother of Saratoga constable-elect Chris Bronzich, was injured Sunday morning in an auto crash near San Ardo. Mel was found pinned under his car which had overturned on a road leading out of San Ardo. He is a Fremont Road resident and had been working lately as foreman of the Bogdanich cherry ranch seven miles outside of the Salinas valley town.

The injured man, who had lain under his car for an hour before he was freed, was taken to King City Hospital, where he was placed under an oxygen tent. His brother, Chris, and sister, Martha Woosley, left Saratoga early Monday morning for the hospital, and returned late that evening. Bronzich said his brother was receiving blood transfusions, and learned Tuesday that he had been taken to surgery.

Cause of the accident has not been determined. Possibility of a hit-and-run driver is being investigated.

SJ Theater Guild To Give Comedy By G. B. Shaw

George Bernard Shaw's brilliant comedy, "Arms and the Man," will be the San Jose Theater Guild's last production of the season. Under the direction of Douglas Hubbard of New York City, the play will be presented June 23 and 24, in Montgomery Theater of the San Jose Civic Auditorium.

Shaw's observations on love, war and morals furnish the satire's plot, which may be remembered as the one on which Oscar Strauss' operetta "The Chocolate Soldier" was based.

Boots Dougherty as Raina, Bill Magnus as Captain Bluntschli, Dorrie Woolliscroft as Louka, and Edward Conrad as Sergius head the cast which includes Marvel Currlin as Catherine, Lew Scofield as Major Petkoff, Jack Webb as Nicola, and Maxwell Jacobs as a Russian soldier.

Hubbard also directed the last offering of the guild, the very successful comedy, "First Lady." Conrad, also from the New York stage, has designed a stylized setting for the production.

Baldwin's Adds Sewing Machine Sales, Service

Addition of 300 square feet of floor space at the rear of Baldwin's has enable this establishment to incorporate a domestic sewing machine sales and service department. The new area is one-third the space of the original floor plan of the Los Gatos store.

Mrs. Robert W. Baldwin will supplement the sewing machine department with personal assistance in sewing problems. She is a former assistant director of the Hazmore School of Dress, San Francisco.

POPULAR RECORDS

The bouncing early dixieland style of jazz is definitely with us again and I for one am glad of it. The strong beat of the old fashioned three part harmony, the enormous drive and inspired solo work of such top notch musicians as Butterfield, Spanier, Teagarden Armstrong, Daily and many others for exciting listening.

Jazzophiles will enjoy Phil Napolean and the Memphis Five on COPENHAGEN (Columbia 38820) Solid rhythm from a small group of two beat blowers, COPENHAGEN is treated to an entirely different interpretation by Teresa Brewer and the Dixie All Stars (London 604). Miss Brewer has a lot of bite and better know-how when it comes to jazz phrasing than most singers. Max Kaminsky one of my favorite trumpet men adds solid support to Miss Brewer Two good readings of old Dixieland, take your choice.

Don't overlook the Firehouse Five, Plus Two if you want jazz in the raw. The combo is terrific. Listen to this group on YES SIR! THAT'S MY BABY (Good Time Jazz 14) and try to keep your toes from tapping.

From Dixieland to Weddings is quite a jump but here goes- HERE COMES THE BRIDE (Decca 765) is a package of wedding music especially useful for modest home weddings. Gaylord Carter plays the familiar wedding march tastefully on the organ and Con Thibauld sings I Love You Truly and Oh, Promise Me with deep feeling.

CHILDREN'S RECORDS

Peter And The Wolf, a fable with music for children of all ages by Prokokieff is offered in simplified form by Crane Calder, narrator (Allergo 9). The simple heroic tale of Peter's capture of the wolf is presented with a fine blend of narrative music. This story, removed from the heavy orchestration and dramatic delivery called for in the original score, becomes a fascinating children's story and also serves as an introduction to the original score.

CLASSICAL RECORDS

The ballet music of Delibes is being granted a great deal of attention by the record companies lately. It was only a few weeks ago that EXCERPTS FROM COPPELIA-SYLVIA were released on one long playing disc by RCA Victor and now London has favored us with two releases of this charming music—DELIBES: BALLET MUSIC FROM "COPPELIA" (LPS 183) & DELIBES: BALLET MUSIC FROM "SYLVIA" (LPS 184). Both of these selections are played by L'Orchestre De La Societe Des Concerts Du Conservatories De Paris conducted by Roger Desormiere. The flowerlike quality of airiness, piquant and colorful orchestrations and the unfailing store of fascinating melody that makes up the charm of Delibes' music are highlighted by Desormiere's reading of these two enchanting scores. From time to time I rave about the quality of sound on the London FFRR recordings, the liveness, the justness of values, the timbre of the various instruments and the detail of sound—these two recordings are uniformly superior, truly a sensationally brilliant performance any way you look at it.

Two Mozart Symphonies are offered back-to-back on one Long-Playing disc—SYMPHONY 25 IN G MINOR (K 183) and SYMPHONY 36 IN C MAJOR (K 425), "LINZ) (Polydor-Vox PL 6280) played by the Pro Musica Orchestra conducted by Otto Klemperer. Symphony 25, often called the Little G Minor was written by Mozart at only 17 and is an unexpectedly brooding work to come from the pen of so young a man. The "Linz" written when Mozart was at the height of his powers was reportedly written in four days! Klemperer treats both symphonies rather heavy handedly, but with spirit and vitality. Recording quality is good.

The vivacious and charming Lily Pons sings favorite OPERATIC ARIAS & CHANSONS (Columbia ML 4300). This is an excellent collection for Miss Pons many fans. Included in the group are the Doll Song from the Tales of Hoffman, Hymn to the Sun from Le Coq d' Or, Faure: Les Roses d'Ispahan, Duparc: L'Invitation au Voyage and many others.

Tchaikowsky's lovely SERENADE IN C, Op. 48 for string orchestra is beautifully performed by the Boston Symphony Orchestra under Serge Koussevitsky (Victor WDM 1346). If you are only familiar with the delightful waltz that forms the second movement of this SERENADE, you are missing a lot of enjoyable listening.

Kennedy, Margaret.
THE FEAST 1950

There is a fairytale quality to this account of an old hotel converted from a broken down manor and the strange medley of people gathered there. The forbidding cliffs of the Cornish seaceast loom over the hotel; warning has been given that the cliffs may fall and the threat of disaster is part of the grim suspense of the pervading story. Among the characters (some very good and some very bad) the children are an especially engaging and delightful lot. As episode follows episode the feeling of impending doom grows; Who will be destroyed when the cliffs come tumbling down? Differing from the author's earlier novels, CONSTANT NYMPH and LADIES OF LYNDON, this book has a special whimsical charm and lightness which are most appealing.

Robinson, Henry Morton.
THE CARDINAL 1950

This is the story of the rise of the son of a Boston streetcar motorman from poor parish priest to cardinal. As newly appointed cardinal, Stephen Fermoyle takes his part in the election of the new pope in 1939 and becomes a powerful link between the Vatican and the church in the new world. The heart of the story is in the portrayal of Stephen's character. Although he had always wished to become a priest he is not a saintly man, he has many human frailties to meet and overcome. Particularly good are characterizations, mixing purely fictional characters with such personages as Pius XI, Pius XII, Cardinal Hayes and Governor Alfred Smith and the vivid descriptions of locale from Rome and the Vatican to the slums of New York. Many will have read this long novel in its abridged form which appeared serially in the Cosomopolitan.

HAMMOND'S ADVANCED REFERENCE ATLAS 1949

Covering the modern, medieval and ancient world, this atlas is divided into four divisions: Part 1 is a world geography with maps showing man's natural and cultural environment; Part 2 contains Western civilization historical maps; Part 3 portrays on a geographical plane the growth and development of the United States; and Part 4 is "The World Today," with postwar political-locational maps.

INFORMATION PLEASE ALMANAC, 1950.

THE WORLD ALMANAC AND BOOK OF FACTS FOR 1950.

"The World Almanac first appeared 82 years ago, in 1858, as a booklet. It reported the impeachment of President Andrew Johnson and the reconstruction of the South. Annual publication was discontinued in 1876. In 1884, the World Almanac was revived by Joseph Pulitzer. It has been published continually since, this being the 65th annual issue of the series."

HURLBUT, GLADYS.
NEXT WEEK EAST LYNNE! 1950.

Here are the reminiscences of an actress, leading lady of a stock company, from her early days as an extra in "Rebecca of Sunnybrok Farm" to her Broadway success in "Life with Mother." It is a gay, lighthearted book written in a conversationa lvein. Miss Hurlbut proves herself not only a good reporter with a phenomenal memory, but a natural story-teller with full understanding of suspense and dramatic climax. Recommended to those who want amusing and wholesome reading.

ROSE, ANNA PERROTT.
ROOM FOR ONE MORE. 1950.

There was always room for one more in this family, and each homeless child that was taken to its heart was handicapped by a fear of the world. Mr. and Mrs. Rose already had three children of their own, which makes this experiment quite different from those one usually hears about. With the Roses it was not a matter of searching for some special child, for they believed that children —any kind of children—were important and were bound "to turn out all right." Actually, they did not choose these children, the children chose them after a temporary visit; in fact, insisted upon staying. This a success story which will inspire every parent, and its secret lies in the generous and understanding hearts of Mr. and Mrs. Rose.

Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne Reappointed To Sixth Year As Methodist Pastor Here

Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne has been reappointed to serve his sixth year as pastor of the Campbell Methodist Church. Mr. Osborne came to Campbell in June 1945, following Rev. Donald H. Baldwin. Mr. Osborne is the twentieth minister to serve the Campbell Methodist Church. Only one pastor, Rev. Frank Farr, completed a full six-year pastorate.

At the annual conference Sunday afternoon in Stockton the appointments for the coming year were made by Bishop Donald Harvey Tippett, The Bishop appointed Rev. John M. Brunswick, a former Campbell pastor, to Maxwell, in the Shasta district. Rev. Brunswick's son, Glenn Brunswick, was appointed to the Methodist Church at Florin. The Rev. Edwin Bowling, though retired, will serve the church at Prunedale. Rev. Donald H. Baldwin was returned to Merced, where he will serve his fifth year. Rev. John F. Wilson, who has been serving the church at Morgan Hill for five years after his retirement, has given up his active work, and is living in Willow Glen. There were no changes in the Santa Clara County churches.
